

elaine DAME

ELAINE DAME, dubbed a "jazz dynamo" by TimeOut Chicago and praised by Grammy-winning jazz journalist Neil Tesser as "among the best, with heart, swagger, and a sense of adventure," has captivated audiences from coast to coast. Dame effortlessly blends vintage jazz with modern standards, infusing each performance with joy and authenticity. It's no surprise that The Chicago Reader lauded her for her "winning stage presence and a chameleon-like vocal flexibility." Her latest recording, Reminiscing, showcases an exciting departure from traditional vocal jazz, featuring innovative arrangements that pay tribute to the eclectic musical landscape of the 1970s.

Reminiscing (2025)

"Dame has risen to the top ranks of Chicago jazz singers. She possesses all the musicality one could want in a true jazz vocalist: centered intonation, an enviable command of rhythm and a translucent but powerful instrument."

~Neil Tesser, Grammy award-winning critic and author, "The Playboy Guide to Jazz."

"Blessed with such clarity of sound, clarions could take lessons, Dame expresses wide open honesty, and her clarity is matched note for note by her imagination." ~Jazz Times

"Her joy in the act of singing is obvious. Dame combines a freshness of approach with an unaffected fondness for the music she sings. The result is a clear-eyed approach to her material that is accessible to a broad cross-section of listeners, potentially enlarging the audience for jazz."

~Jazz Improv Magazine

"A clear and powerful voice along with the ability to improvise with subtlety...an excellent scat singer....beautiful tone."

~Scott Yanow, All Music Guide
